

NEWS LETTER NO 15

UPDATE 12/07/2013 Cheddar

The journey from Dartmouth to Cheddar turned out to be a drag there was a accident on the motorway and the police had to close it. I have herd about people playing football and heading into the bushes, but it was our first experience off it.

Like of the day

Devon pastie for breakfast.

Dislike of the day

Wi-Fi which you pay for by the hour and it is so slow what would take 2 mins to upload takes 30 mins.

ADVENTURE BEFORE DEMENTIA

It's a long time since we went to Cheddar Gorge and it has changed. It's 1. ¼ miles long 1 mile is beautiful nature at its best. But the first ¼ mile is a shopping street selling anything with the name cheddar on it. We were due to stay 3 nights but we cut it down to 2.

UPDATE 16/7/2013 Bath

In bath we were using a 5 van certified location, they are always a bit off a lottery some are fantastic, where its just like being in someone's garden. Then there is this one in Bath. He was a nice chap but very untidy and because we wanted to change our booking the first night we had to stay beside the shed. (it's not all honey and roses out here in the big world).

ADVENTURE BEFORE DEMENTIA

Bath is still one off our favourite city's and there is lots to see and do.

UPDATE 19/7/2013 Bristol.

The Caravan club site at Baltic Warfe in Bristol is our favourite site in the U.K. It is situated on the side of the floating harbour (it is a 2 mile long harbour with lock gates to keep the water level constant built by Brunel) the walk into town is along the harbour passed S.S. Great Britain and other historical boats.

The site is behind the hedge

In a evening you can take your seats and a bottle of wine onto the water side and watch the boats and yachts go by (can't fault it)

ADVENTURE BEFORE DEMENTIA

There is a ferry service that runs up the harbour every 15 mins and drops you off outside the camp gate

Wendy coming back from a afternoon shopping.

Lunch at T.F.I. Fridays

Dislike of the day

Thinking about all the calories I have just ate at lunch.

Finally

Well guys that's it for this trip we will be getting home on Tuesday after stopping at Liz and Brians on Monday. I would just like to thank you all for putting up with my ramblings and all the feedback we have had.

So its home for 5 weeks then off to Italy, so I will be sending you all more rubbish then.

This is the biggest 13 anp socket I have ever seen
